CHARLESTON, S.C. (June 27, 2019) – The most recently established division of the New York Club Soccer League is experiencing rapid growth as teams continue to accept invitations to the team-based NPL division of the NYCSL. A total of 54 different clubs, encompassing over 150 teams will compete in the inaugural season of the team-based NPL division among 12-U through 19-U boys and girls age groups.

Kicking off this fall, the new NPL team-based competition will be comprised of NY Cup finalists, NYCSL Premier League Division 1 champions, and Final Four champions, along with other teams invited for the opening season. Member teams of this division will strive towards the same goal as those in the club-based platform: an ENPL national championship for the boys participants and an NPL national title for the girls. Beyond this season, the pathway to the team-based NPL division will go through NYCSL and CCSL platforms.

The following clubs will enter teams in the NYCSL team-based division in 2019-2020:

- AC CT
